Course Description:

Welcome to United States History for the Spring of 2024. This course will be run in-person two days a week (sometimes three!) and through Google Classroom where additional lessons and assignments will be posted. All students must be able to access Google Classroom through their @nycstudents.net account to be successful in this course. If you are having trouble logging in, please let us know.

The second half of United States history begins with the industrialization, urbanization, and the accompanying problems are examined, along with America's emergence as a world power, the two world wars of the 20th century, and the Cold War. Students explore the expansion of the federal government, the threat of terrorism, and the place of the United States in an increasingly globalized and interconnected world.
